in detail, and poorly executed.

To meet the demand you make—and in doing so you are the mouthpiece of thousands in Virginia and over the countryallow me to state the fact that competent engineers and topographers are now pre-paring, and have well under way, a comete set of maps of all the States and Territories in our vast domain, to be late and ritories in our vast somain, to be late and new, and believe to be superior in matter and style superior to any here to the safe and finish to any here to tore issued. Those already finished verify this assertion. Expecial attention is being devoted to Virginia. Original surveys and documents in the archives at Washington, Richmond, and elsewhere, and retical surveys by experienced topographers now in progress, will give us a complete modern centennial map of the Old Dominion in matter and style superior to any heretofore.

Also, if your Honor is wilkin' to admit to the surveys and documents in the archives at Washington, Richmond, and elsewhere, and retical surveys and source of the control of the surveys and source of an order of the clorent Court of Henzico county, entered on the 9th day of Getober, 1876, in the survey of the curveys and source of an order of the clorent Court of Henzico county, entered on the 9th day of Getober, 1876, in the survey of the curveys and surveys and as it was a paint mode in fact, and surveys and source of an order of the clorent Court of Henzico county, entered on the 9th day of Getober, 1876, in the surveys and the surveys and surveys and as it was a paint mode in surveys and source of an order of the clorent Court of Henzico county, entered on the 9th day of Getober, 1876, in the surveys and the surveys and as it was a paint mode in the surveys and of Brook turpike. In Henzico county, control of Brook turpike, in Hen attempted. Be patient, Mr. Editor, and this consummation will soon be reached. The work is in competent hands, rapidly progressing in the Valley and over the State, and in due time will gladden your eves in place of the crowded, inaccurate, and smutched" affairs you speak of. The whole continent is embraced in the plan. I forbear mentioning names in this connection, as you might consider this an advertisement in advance. On that point you will be seen in due time.

CHEATING WITH TRIP-SIMES. - The Beston Baturday Evening Gazette says: "A wase of economy without proper watchfulness on the part of the officials of a horse railroad corporation has transpired in a recent investigation. The saving of punched lickets tuned in by the confluctors for eventual sale to the junk man led to a ludierously disastrous result to the exchequer. Three or four barrels of these vouchers for pay that there was a great falling off in the cash | kind of girl will answer. fares passed in to the office clerks. It could not be that the public had so subdenly resolved to buy tickets, yet the ezuse could was directed to sell the barrels of 'old ACCOUNT-BOOK. A liberal reward will be paid if paper.' Then it was discovered that one of the barrels combining thousands of the barrels combining thousands of not be divined until one of the employes punched tickets was missing. It has since been ascertained that these had circulated freely among the conductors, and had been turned in in lieu of cash fares, the registering punches having been cusningly rung over the cash tape strips without perforating them. Of course there was a discharge with according to law.

A CALIFORNIA ANECDOTE OF GENERAL SHERMAN. - As he was ascending the elevator in a hotel he was suddenly set upon by the only other passenger, who was subject to occasional fits of insanity. The maniae stunned the attendant by a furious blow with his stick, and grappling with the Gen-eral, attempted to stab him with a murderous-looking knife. In the melee the lights went out and the elevator stopped between two floors, about half way up. General Sherman seized the man by the throat and Sherman seized the man by the throat and forced his head over the edge of the doorway He then felt for the starting bar with his foot, and put the machine in motion. The result was that in passing the next landing above the head of the unhappy wretch was CHINA, GLASSWARE, PLATED GOODS severed from his body, and went bouncing down into the office.

Tradition says that it requires a surgical operation to get a joke into a Scotchman's head. The Scotchman is maligned. I find him as ready to give and take a joke as his more southern neighbor. He has no wit, but he has a deal of humor, and is ready with the heartiest laughter. As to hospitality, the Scotch will dine you and sup you until you have not a leg to stand upon, and will go to no end of trouble to put you in the way of obtaining information. Grasshoppers are rather a novelty in Texas, and if you were to tell a Texan anywise familiar with railroads that grasshoppers could stop a train, he would laugh at the idea, and think you were "poking fun at him," For all this, the grasshoppers are stopping trains right here in Texas. Sunday night, when Mayor Lord and Alderman McGowan were going to Austin, just beyond Giddings, the track was so covered with hoppers that it took the train two hours to make six miles. In places they were two feet thick on the track. The wheels run-ning over them mashed them so that the track became so slippery the wheels revolved without going ahead. The stench from the massacred insects was so great and overpowering that the windows of the cars had to be closed.—Houston Telegraph.

An observatory is to be built on the American side at Niagara to enable visitors to view the cataract without dressing in waterproof suits. It will be 100 feet long and 24 feet wide, and will extend from the foot of Prospect Point inclined railway to the entrance of the Shadow of the Rock. It will be constructed of stone and iron, and at the end facing the falls there will be a parlor with large windows.

A few months ago one of the masters of a country grammar school died. The school building was closed on the day of the funeral. Johnny Smith passed the time in playing by a pond near his house. A few days since his mother sent him to school as usual, but Johnny preferred playing by the pond, where he met his father, who inquired why he was not at school. Johnny said there was no school, and, when pressed for the reason, replied triumphantly, "That man is dead again."

"Well, my dear," said a good pastor at Sunday school to a tow-headed urchin, "I am glad to hear you are getting to be a bet-ter boy." "Why, sir," said little Joe, looking up with grave earnestness, "I aint been sick."
